Cyber Risk is the No. 1 Business Risk for Law Firms

Did you know that human error causes over 80% of cybersecurity incidents?<sup>1</sup> Cybersecurity breaches result in significant financial losses, legal and regulatory non-compliance, and reputational damage.

At Law & Cyber, we understand the critical nature of cybersecurity awareness and the potential risks that law firms face in their daily activities. We work with you to build a cyber-aware and cyber-resilient culture, empowering all your staff to become your strongest resource in protecting your business – and your clients – against cyber breaches.

About Law & Cyber director and founder, Simone Herbert-Lowe

Simone Herbert-Lowe has educated more than 10,000 Australians about cyber risk through specialist online and face-to-face training that explains how cyber, legal and business risk intersect.

With more than 30 years of experience in private and corporate legal practice, Simone specialises in supporting businesses' cyber resilience through education and fostering a cyber-aware culture. Her expertise encompasses insurance, professional liability, ethics, dispute resolution, and privacy.

As the former Manager of Strategy & Innovation and Senior Claims Solicitor at Lawcover, she handled over 2,000 professional indemnity notifications by law firms. She played a pivotal role in Lawcover's innovative response to cyber risk, including launching its group cyber risk policy. Simone regularly presents to businesses on cyber risk, facilitates cyber incident tabletop exercises, and has given expert written opinion in legal proceedings involving email-enabled fraud.

Simone is an experienced speaker and presenter with an MBA (Executive) from AGSM, a Master of Law & Management from AGSM/UNSW Law, and bachelor's degrees in Law and Arts from UNSW. Her outstanding leadership was recognised with AGSM's prestigious Wanbil Lee Prize for Ethical Leadership in Business in 2016 and the Innovator of the Year (Individual) Award at the Lawyers Weekly Women in Law Awards in 2022.
